B. Based upon an analysis of prior City contracts of a similar nature and current availability data, there are no subcontractors available to perform a portion of the work;

C. Based upon an historical analysis of contracts of a similar size and industry type, the nature of available subcontract opportunities will lead to gross inefficiencies that will significantly and adversely affect the overall cost of the project; and/or

D. EOCP has determined that the best interests of small contractors' capacity development will be served by suspending the Subcontracting Outreach Program, placing the contract in the Minor Construction program or some other small business program, and limiting competition for the prime contract to small construction firms that are enrolled in that program.

Except in the case of emergency contracts, as defined by San Diego Municipal Code section 22.3003, no waiver will be granted without first obtaining City Council approval. In the event EOCP issues a waiver of this program's application to a given contract, that program waiver and the basis for the waiver shall be clearly stated in the bid documents. Moreover, the Director of EOCP shall prepare a justification memorandum that explains the basis and factual findings supporting that waiver decision.
